Where architecture meets events...

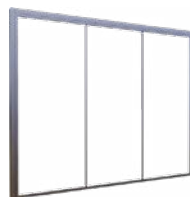

Introducing Xpand, an innovative system that seamlessly integrates clear walls and doors into a streamlined architectural design, making it an ideal addition or enhancement to your next event, activation or exhibition space.

Designed and engineered in Europe, Xpand has been developed in collaboration with beMatrix, a sustainable-focused provider of creative, innovative and award winning exhibit and event systems.

Perfect for pop-up meeting areas, intimate events and activations – or even as a short-term office space – Xpand’s customisable walling system comes together beautifully to form the perfect space for your next big event.

Xpand can also be further customised to include designs from our extensive design library, including bespoke wall panels, digital prints and sustainable alternatives.
